SOVEREIGN IMMUNITY IS NOT DEFENCE UNDER CLEAN WATER ACT

Claiming that he was terminated because he indicated and complained that tribal elder's cattle were polluting streams that drained into Loveland Reservoir Jamal Kanj, public works director for the Viejas Indian Tribe, has filed a three million dollar law suite against the tribe for wrongful discharge. The tribe tried to get the case thrown out using sovereignty immunity: However, the courts have ruled that since the case was an apparent whistle blower action that the tribe could not invoke sovereign immunity since Congress, under the clean water act, defined tribal governments as municipalities abrogating that tribal immunity.

The following update is provided for information purposes only following a afternoon 9-17-2008:

At the request of the family a Public Memorial and/or Burial Service will not Burns City Hall will be raised on the evening of Friday the 19th. At Randy's obituary will be read on the local radio station. The family has requested the Randy's home or funeral home. The meals program for the family has been due to an abundant amount of food. A Memorial Fund Account is being established at Sterling Savings Bank in the Memory of Diane Cook. Funds from this account will be used to pay for the funeral expenses during this time of loss. Brice Mundlin is working with Patt to set up the fund today 9-17-2008 .

CULTURAL RESOURCE DE

SEPTEMBER 22, 2008

THE LOUIE FAMILY & CULTURAL DEPARTMENT FL

The Cultural Resources Specialist and members of the Louie, Richards and Peck families assembled a float that was entered into this years Harney County Parade and won the Sweepstakes Prize! This years theme was "Stirrup Some Fun!"

The float entered was adorned with Pendleton blankets, hand-painted banners by Renee Thomas w/ additions by Theresa Peck, hand-made drums by the late Earl Louie, Beaded Buckskin gloves, vest and purses made by Justine (Louie) Brown and the late Ethel Louie, sagebrush, streamers, fringes, saddle, bridal, cowboy hat and the huge stirrup made by Jody & Larry Richards and Ervin Peck. Our theme was "Stirrup Some Fun To The Beat of The Native Drum and also displayed a banner recognizing and "Honoring Our Ancestors." We would like to thank everyone who put ideas together for the float and to those who rode on our float—all descendants of Captain Louie, Jimmy Louie &
